

CONTENTS

PART I. PRELIMINARY

CHAP.	PAGE
I. Explanation of Method and Order	3
II. Introductory Statement	7

PART II. THE LECTURES

III. The First Change of Judgment	35
IV. Iconium and the Frontier	53
V. The Language Spoken at Iconium	65
VI. General Impression of Trustworthiness in the Acts	79
VII. Trial Scenes in the Acts	90
VIII. The Magicians in the Acts of the Apostles	106
IX. Simon the Magician	117
X. Paul and the Magicians	132
XI. The Magi at the Birth of Jesus	140
XII. Sergius Paullus and his Relation to Christian Faith	150
XIII. "Salvation" as a Pagan and a Christian Term	173
XIV. Prayers for Salvation among the Pagans of Asia Minor	178
XV. The Imperial Salvation	191
XVI. Trustworthiness of the Acts, Chapters I. to XII.	199
XVII. Rhoda the Slave-Girl	209

CHAP.	PAGE
XVIII. Approach to the Gospel of Luke	222
XIX. Luke's Account of the First Census	238
XX. The Augustan Census-System	255
XXI. When Quirinius was Governing Syria	275
XXII. Analogies and Fulfilment of Prophecy	301
XXIII. "Your Poets have said"	319

PART III. ASSOCIATED QUESTIONS

XXIV. The Old Testament in the Roman Phrygia	353
XXV. The Name of the Evangelist Luke	370
XXVI. The Firstfruits of Achaia	385
XXVII. The Pauline Churches in the Third Century	412
INDEXES: 1. Passages quoted	423
2. Personal Names	424
3. Geographical Names	425