

Contents

Preface ix

- I. The Scriptural Teaching 1
 1. From the Beginning 3
 - Genesis and Truth* 5
 - The Beginning of Genesis* 9
 - Genesis 1: Male and Female* 10
 - Genesis 2: Flesh of My Flesh* 15
 - Genesis 2: Subordination* 23
 2. Sin and the New Adam 29
 - Genesis 3: The Man's Rule* 31
 - The New Mankind* 36
 - Community and Subordination* 39
 3. The Family: Husbands and Wives 47
 - The Husband's Role* 49
 - The Wife's Role* 56
 - Raising Children* 64
 4. The Family: Key Texts 71
 - Ephesians 5:22-33: As Christ* 72
 - 1 Peter 3:1-7: Joint Heirs* 88
 - The Roles of Husbands and Wives* 94
 5. The People: Service and Position 101
 - Prophesying, Teaching, Charitable Service* 103
 - Women in Missionary and Pastoral Service* 112
 - Men and Governmental Positions* 123
 - Roles and Community Structure* 132
 6. Social Roles and Galatians 3:28 137
 - The Thrust of Galatians 3:28* 139
 - Galatians 3:28 and Social Differences* 149
 - Abolitionism* 155

7. The Community: Key Texts (1 Corinthians 11:2-16; 14:33-36)	165
1 Corinthians 11:2-16: Dishonoring Their Heads	166
1 Corinthians 14:33-36: She Should Be Subordinate	183
8. The Community: Key Texts (1 Timothy 2:8-15)	191
The Thrust of the Passage	193
The Grounding of the Passage	201
9. Summary: The New Testament Teaching as a Whole	209
Authority of the Teaching	213
The Intent of the Teaching	215
Note on Method: Exegesis	221
The Exegetical Approach	221
Christian Liberationist Exegesis	226
II. Assessing the Scriptural Teaching	233
10. The New Testament Approach: Jesus and Paul	235
A Distinctive New Testament Approach	236
Jesus and First Century Judaism	239
Paul and Pagan Culture	251
11. The New Testament Approach: Setting and Culture	255
The New Testament and Social Structure	256
The New Testament in Its Setting	262
The Question of "Culture"	271
12. Christian Tradition: Husbands and Wives	281
What Is Tradition?	283
Family Order in Tradition	285
13. Church Tradition: Government of the Community	299
The Evidence for Governing Positions	300
The Strength of Tradition	317
14. The Authority of Scripture	327
The Nature of Scriptural Authority	329
Submission to Scripture	333
Is This Fundamentalism?	345
15. Bypassing Scriptural Authority	351
Modern Bypasses	352
The Real Challenge	365

III. The Scriptural Teaching in Contemporary Society	369
16. Men's and Women's Differences:
Individual Characteristics	371
Understanding Men's and Women's Differences	374
Descriptive Social Science	377
Experimental Psychology	393
17. Men's and Women's Differences:
Social Structural Characteristics	411
The Social Structural Patterns of Men and Women	412
Explaining the Social Structural Data	429
Conclusion: Individual Characteristics and Social Structural Characteristics	437
Consequences and Directions	439
Note on Method: Social Science	449
The Distinctiveness of This Book's Approach	449
Feminist Social Science	453
18. The New Social Environment: Technological Society	467
Technological and Traditional Societies	468
Functional and Relational Principles of Social Structure	472
Social Structure in Technological Society	479
The Family in Technological Society	490
Men's and Women's Roles and the Misinterpretation of Social History	498
Evaluating Technological Society	502
19. The New Intellectual Environment:
Ideology and Christianity	507
Modern Ideological Positions	508
The Christian Response	524
20. Applying Scriptural Teaching	541
What Is Its Meaning for Now?	543
The Intent of Scripture	558
Some Principles of Application	565
IV. A Christian Approach for Today	571
21. The Bases of a Christian Approach Today	573
Becoming a People	575
Restoring Christian Relationships: Relational Groupings	578
Restoring Christian Social Structure: Social Roles	583
Alternate Social Patterns: Traditionalism and Socialism	591

22. Guidelines for a Modern Christian Approach to Men's and Women's Roles 597

Basic Prerequisites for Men's and Women's Roles 598

Key Biblical Teaching on Men's and Women's Roles 601

Adapting to Technological Society 608

Relating Outside of Christian Community 611

The Feasibility of a Christian Restoration of Men's and Women's Roles 617

23. Special Issues in Constructing a Modern Christian Social Structure 619

Strengthening Family Life 620

Structures of Christian Leadership 624

Male and Female Personality 632

Relationships Between Men and Women 647

Single People 650

The Need for a Pastoral Strategy 652

24. Ordination, Occupation, Legislation 653

Ordination of Women 654

Women and Occupations 658

Legislation 662

Christians in the World 666

Afterword 667

Bibliography 669

Notes 675

Index of Scripture References 743

Index 747