

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION		1
A Synopsis of the Book		3
The Setting of the Book of Job in the History of the Religions of the Ancient Near East		5
The Place of Job in the History of Israel's Religion		12
Approach to the Interpretation of the Text		15
Matters of Text: Translation and Integrity		22
Outline of This Commentary		25
COMMENTARY
PART ONE:
Prologue	A Dialogue of Heaven and Earth	31
Job 1—2
1:1—5	Narrative Introduction to Job Himself	34
1:6—12	First Scene in Heaven: A Question Which Sets the Drama in Motion	37
1:13—22	First Scene on Earth: Job's Affirmative Response to His Calamity	42
2:1—7a	Second Scene in Heaven: The Heavenly Question Given Sharper Point	44
2:7b—10	Second Scene on Earth: Job's Ambiguous Response to His Deepened Calamity	47
2:11—13	Narrative Conclusion: Introducing Job's Friends and Alluding to His Growing Pain	56
PART TWO:
Dialogue: First Cycle		61
Job 3—14
3	Job's Opening Soliloquy: “To Have Been or not to Have Been”	61
4—5	Eliphaz's First Response: “Remember the Consolation You Have Given Others”	71

INTERPRETATION

6—7	Job Moves from Soliloquy to Dialogue with the Friends and with God	76
8	Bildad's First Response: "Trust the Tradition of the Ancestors"	83
9—10	Job Responds to Bildad by Seeking Common Ground with God in the Sensibilities of Law-court and Workshop	88
11	Zophar's First Response: On the Hidden Depths of Divine Wisdom	97
12—14	Job's Response to Zophar Concluding the First Cycle	101
PART THREE:
Dialogue: Second Cycle Job 15—21		115
15	Eliphaz's Second Response to Job Challenging His Implied Standpoint	115
16—17	Job Responds to Eliphaz II: On Comfort, Witness, and the Energy of Hope	122
18	Bildad's Second Response to Job: The Place of the Wicked in a Moral Universe	127
19	Job's Response to Bildad II: A Sense of Kinship Beyond a Sense of Total Abandonment	131
20	Zophar's Second Response to Job: The Portion of the Wicked in a Moral Universe	150
21	Job's Response to Zophar II: The True Horror of the Fate of the Wicked	154
PART FOUR:
Dialogue: Third Cycle Job 22—27		161
22	Eliphaz's Third Response to Job: Direct Attack and Renewed Appeal for Submission	161

23—24	Job's Response to Eliphaz III: A Search for God in Space and Time	164	Contents
25—27	The Dialogue Breaks Down	171
PART FIVE:
Soliloquy Job 28—31		187
28	A Meditation on Wisdom	187
29—31	Job's Summing Up: Recollection of Things Past, Recognition of Things Present, and a Final Oath	201
PART SIX:
A Voice for God, the Voice of God, and Job's Response Job 32—42:6		217
32—37	The Sudden Appearance of Elihu as an Inspired Young Prophet	217
38—41	Yahweh's Questions from the Whirlwind	225
42:1-6	Job's Response to Yahweh: Confession as Covenant Speech	247
PART SEVEN:
Epilogue Job 42:7-17		261
42:7-9	Yahweh and the Friends of Job	262
42:10-17	Restoration and More	267
BIBLIOGRAPHY
			271