

CONTENTS

PART I

	PAGE
PAULINISM IN THE GRÆCO-ROMAN WORLD	3
§ I. Introduction	3
§ II. The Pauline Philosophy of History	10
§ III. The Pauline Contrasted with the Modern Method	15
§ IV. St. Paul and Hellenism	30
§ V. Hellenism and Hebraism	43
§ VI. The Empire as the World's Hope	48
§ VII. Paulinism in the Roman Empire	70
§ VIII. Conclusion	78

PART II

TARSUS	85
§ I. Introduction	85
§ II. The Situation of Tarsus	93
§ III. Tarsus and the Plain of Cilicia	98
§ IV. Tarsus, the River and the Sea	105
§ V. Tarsus and the Cilician Gates	112

	PAGE
§ VI. The Ionians in Early Tarsus	116
§ VII. Tarsus as an Oriental Town	121
§ VIII. Legends of Early Tarsus	131
§ IX. The Religion of Tarsus	137
§ X. The Revival of Greek Influence	157
§ XI. Tarsus as the Greek Colony Antiocheia	159
§ XII. The Greeks in Tarsus-Antiocheia	165
§ XIII. The Jews in Tarsus	169
§ XIV. The Jews settled in Tarsus in 171 B.C. . . .	180
§ XV. Tarsus the Hellenistic City	186
§ XVI. Tarsus as Capital of the Roman Province Cilicia	191
§ XVII. The Oriental Spirit in Tarsus	198
§ XVIII. Romans otherwise Tarsians	205
§ XIX. The Tarsian Democracy	214
§ XX. Athenodorus of Tarsus	216
§ XXI. The Reform of the Tarsian Constitution by Athenodorus	224
§ XXII. The University of Tarsus	228
§ XXIII. Tarsus under the Empire	235

PART III

ANTIOCH	247
§ I. The City and its Foundation	247
§ II. The Jews in Pisidian Antioch	255
§ III. The Greek Colonists in Early Antioch	259
§ IV. The Phrygians of Antioch	260

	PAGE
§ V. Antioch a City of Galatia	262
§ VI. Character of the Original Hellenic City	264
§ VII. The Roman Colony of Pisidian Antioch	268
§ VIII. Hellenism in Pisidian Antioch	277
§ IX. The Religion of Antioch	285
§ X. First Appearance of Paul and Barnabas in the Antiochian Synagogue	296
§ XI. Paul's First Address to a Galatian Audience	299
§ XII. The Approach to the Gentiles	303
§ XIII. The Door of the Gentiles	308

PART IV

ICONIUM	317
§ I. Natural and National Character	317
§ II. The Religion of Iconium	330
§ III. The Territory of Iconium	334
§ IV. Iconium a City of Galatia	343
§ V. The Constitution of the Hellenic City Iconium	353
§ VII. Iconium as a Roman City	360
§ VIII. The Roman Colony of Iconium	362
§ IX. St. Paul at Iconium	370
§ X. The Christian Cults of Iconium	374

PART V

DERBE	385
-----------------	-----

PART VI

	PAGE
LYSTRA	407
§ I. Situation and Character	407
§ II. Character of the Five Cities	418

PART VII

St. Paul in the Roman World	423
---------------------------------------	-----

NOTES	437
-----------------	-----

ILLUSTRATIONS

PLATES

	FACING PAGE
I. Tarsus, the Hill Country behind, and the snow-covered Taurus in the background	94
II. Two views of a Triumphal Arch on the Roman Road, twelve miles north of Tarsus: from the south. (A view from the north is given in Pauline and Other Studies , Plate XIII.)	96
III. Jonas Pillar and the Cilician Sea, near Issus. The slope of Djebel Nur rises on the right	98
IV. Falls of the Cydnus (the new River of Justinian) on the north side of Tarsus	108
V. The Cilician Gates	108
VI. The desolate site of Pisidian Antioch	248
VII. Remains of a Hellenistic building at Antioch	250
VIII. The Aqueduct of Pisidian Antioch	252
IX. Rock-cutting, generally supposed to be the Sanctuary of the God of Pisidian Antioch, perhaps only the site of an Odeon	254
X. The Plateau of Pisidian Antioch and the Glen of the River Anthios, looking from the north-east	272

	FACING PAGE
XI. Looking across Konia to the Twin Peaks of St. Philip and St. Thekla	272
XII. The Sacred Village and Mountain of the Zizimmene Mother of Iconium	330
XIII. Seat of the Mevlevi Dervishes: the Religious Centre of Iconium	Frontispiece
XIV. The Church of St. Amphilochius at Iconium	380
XV. Hadji Baba, the Pilgrim Father, the Mountain Guardian of Derbe	388
XVI. The Site of Derbe	394
XVII. Khatyn Serai and Lystra and the Bridge on the Southern Road	408
XVIII. Mediæval Bridge on the north side of Khatyn Serai	410

CUTS IN THE TEXT

	PAGE
Fig. 1. Greek Warrior on Coin of Tarsus: Aramaic Letters	123
Fig. 2. Greek Nymph on Coin of Tarsus: Aramaic Letters	127
Fig. 3. The Baal of Tarsus and the Persian Satrap of Cilicia	128
Fig. 4. The Baal of Tarsus and the Syrian Gates	129
Fig. 5. Athena on Coin of Tarsus	130
Fig. 6. Lion and Star on Coin of Tarsus	131
Fig. 7. The Goddess, her Lions, and the God, a Lycaonian Relief	134
Fig. 8. Perseus with the Gorgon's Head on Coin of Tarsus	135
Fig. 9. The Baal of Tarsus	140

	PAGE
Fig. 9A. The Emblem of Tarsus, Lion killing Stag	435
Fig. 10. The Baal of Tarsus with Eagle	141
Fig. 11. The Anatolian God of Tarsus	144
Fig. 11A. The Hellenic City-Goddess	facing 1
Fig. 12. The Anatolian God at Boghaz-Keui	145
Fig. 13. The Anatolian God of Tarsus as he was borne to the Pyre	148
Fig. 14. Perseus, with the City-Goddess and the People, adoring Apollo of Tarsus	150
Fig. 15. Perseus supporting Apollo of Tarsus	152
Fig. 16. Perseus and the Fisherman of Tarsus	153
Fig. 17. The Persian God Ahura-mazda on Coin of Tarsus	154
Fig. 18. Mithras Sacrificing a Bull on Coin of Tarsus	155
Fig. 19. The Hellenic City-Goddess of Antioch-Tarsus	160
Fig. 19A. The Zeus of Antioch-Tarsus	facing 1
Fig. 20. Tarsus with the River Cydnus at her Feet	188
Fig. 21. The Hellenic City-Goddess and the Anatolian God of the Tarsians	189
Fig. 22. The two Imperial Temples at Tarsus	237
Fig. 23. The Three Provinces Crowning the City-Goddess of Tarsus	238
Fig. 24. The Crown of the High-priest of the Emperors	239
Fig. 25. Tarsus between Athena and Nemesis	241
Fig. 26. Ship bringing Egyptian Corn to Tarsus	242
Fig. 27. The River Anthios on Coin of Pisidian Antioch	316
Fig. 28. The Roman Standards at Antioch	274
Fig. 29. Gordian III. sacrificing beside the Roman Standards at Antioch	275

	PAGE
Fig. 30. Imperial Victories at Antioch	276
Fig. 31. Peace hurrying to Antioch	281
Fig. 32. The Genius of Antioch	282
Fig. 33. The God of Antioch supporting Victory	286
Fig. 34. The Goddess-Mother of Antioch with her Lions	288
Fig. 35. The Genius of Antioch with Olive-branch	289
Fig. 36. The Genius of Antioch with Horn of Plenty	290
Fig. 37. Gordian III. supporting the Genius of the City and greeting Antioch	291
Fig. 38. Antioch as the Lady of the Limnai	292
Fig. 39. The Statue of Perseus at Iconium	328
Fig. 40. Perseus on a Coin of Iconium	329
Fig. 41. Athena Polias at Iconium	331
Fig. 42. The Hellenic Zeus of the Iconians	332
Fig. 43. The Hero, a Relief at Iconium	333
Fig. 44. Heracles at Iconium	354
Fig. 45. The Roman She-Wolf at Iconium	365
Fig. 46. The Good Fortune of Iconium	367
Fig. 47. The Good Fortune of Iconium with River at her Feet	368
Fig. 48. The Empress Poppaea as the City-Goddess of Iconium	369
Fig. 49. The Tomb of Paul the Martyr at Derbe	390
Fig. 50. Heracles at Derbe	400
Fig. 51. Good Fortune at Derbe	401
Fig. 52. Victory Writing on a Shield : a Statue at Derbe	402
Fig. 53. The Founder of Lystra Ploughing the Limits of the City	413

	PAGE
Fig. 54. The Good Fortune of Lystra	414
Fig. 55. The Good Fortune of Barata	415

MAPS

I. CILICIA AND THE ROAD ACROSS TAURUS	84
II. FROM TARSUS AND THE COAST TO THE CILICIAN GATES	106
III. THE REGION OF PISIDIAN ANTIOCH	246
IV. THE COUNTRY OF ICONIUM, DERBE AND LYSTRA	384