CONTENTS.

I.—ANALYSIS.

PROLEGOMENA.

|  |          |         |          |          |         | Page |
|--|----------|---------|----------|----------|---------|------|
| SECT. I Of the Persons to whom the Epistle is addressed,                           |          |         |          |          |         | 1    |
| II Of the Occasion of  |          |         |          |          |         | 3    |
| III Of the Subject of t  |          |         |          | 3        |         |      |
| IV Of the Date of the  | _        |         | place fr | om which | h it wa | S    |
| Written, .   |          |         | ٠.       |          |         | 5    |
| V.—Of the Genuineness of the Epistle, VI.—Of the General Character of the Epistle, |          |         |          |          | :       | 6    |
|  |          |         |          |          |         | 10   |
| VII.—Of the Division of  |          |         |          | 11       |         |      |
| VIII.—Of the Interpreters of the Epistle,  |          |         |          |          | 12      |      |
| •  |          |         |          |          |         |      |
| INSCRIP  | PART     | 100     | PISTLE   |          |         |      |
|  | GAL. I.  | 1-5.    |          |          |         |      |
| SECT. I.—The Author,   |          |         |          |          | · .     | 17   |
| 1. His Name, .   |          |         |          |          |         | 17   |
| 2. His Office, .   |          |         |          |          | £3.     | 18   |
| 3. His Associates  |          |         |          |          | •:      | 22   |
| II —The Persons addre  | ssed—the | Churche | es of Ga | latia,   |         | 23   |
| III.—The Greeting, .   |          |         |          |          |         | 24   |
| 1. A Prayer, .   |          |         |          |          |         | 24   |
| 2. A Statement,  |          |         |          |          |         | 25   |
| 3. A Doxology  |          |         |          |          |         | 23   |

| n and a second  | age      | CONTENTS.   |
|---|----------|---|
| PART II,  | age      | Pag   |
| INTRODUCTION TO THE EPISTLE.  |          | PART IV.  |
| GAL. I. 6-10.   |          | THE APOSTLE'S DEFENCE OF HIS DOCTRINE.  |
| ECT. I.—Introductory Remarks,  II.—The Change which had taken place among the Galatians,  | 3638 | GAL. III. 1-1v. 1-7.  |
|   | 38       | SECT. I.—Introductory Remarks, 109  |
| <ol> <li>The fact,</li> <li>The Apostle's feelings in reference to the fact,</li> </ol>   | 42       | II.—The Apostle's Astonishment, Displeasure, and Sorrow, at the   |
| 3. The cause of the fact,   | 43       | Change in the Sentiments of the Galatians, . 104  |
| III.—The manner in which Corrupters of the Gospel ought to be                             |          | III.—Argument from their own Experience, 108  |
| regarded,   | 44       | IV.—Argument from the History of the Justification of Abraham, 114  |
| IV The Apostle's Defence of himself against the Charge of being                           |          |   |
| a Man-pleaser,  | 48       | V.—Argument from the Promise to Abraham, 120  |
|   |          | VI.—Justification by the Law in the nature of things impossible, 123  |
| PART III.   |          | VII.—Justification by Law inconsistent with Scripture, . 126  |
| THE APOSTLE'S HISTORICAL DEFENCE OF HIMSELF AND OF  | ,        | VIII.—Redemption from the Curse of the Law necessary for Justifi-cation both to Jews and Gentiles, 128              |
| HIS OFFICE.   |          | IX.—Free Justification by believing secured in a ratified Divine  |
| GAL. I. 11-II. 21.  |          | Arrangement which cannot be disannulled by the Law-   |
| ECT. I.—Introductory Remarks,   | 53       | a subsequent Divine Arrangement,  |
| II.—The Thesis to be proved, "that he was a Divinely-taught,                              | 00       | 1. The Thesis stated and proved,  |
| Divinely-authorised Apostle,"   | 55       | 3. The Law not contrary, but subservient, to the Promise, 162   |
| III.—Historical Proof of the Thesis,  | 59       | 4. State of the Church under the Law, 170   |
| 1. His character as a Jew.  | 59       | 5. State of the Church after "faith has come," . 176  |
| 2. His conversion and call,   | 61       | 6. Figurative illustration of these two states, 182   |
| 3. His conduct in consequence of his conversion,  | 63       | (1.) The figure,  |
| (1.) He "conferred not with flesh and blood,"   | 63       | (2.) The application of the figure, 187   |
| (2.) He did not go immediately to Jerusalem, .  | 63       | (a.) The Church's minor state, 187  |
| (3.) He went into Arabia,   | 64       | (b.) The state of νίοθεσία, or "Mature Sonship,"  |
| (4.) He returned to Damascus,   | 64       | into which the Church has been introduced, 191  |
| 4. Three years after, he went to Jerusalem to become ac-                                  |          | (c.) The means by which this favourable change  |
| quainted with Peter; remained only three days, and  |          | was effected,   |
| saw only two of the Apostles,   | 64       | (d.) Consequence and proof of this favourable   |
| 5. He went then into the regions of Syria and Cilicia, being                              |          | change of condition, 198  |
| personally unknown to the Churches of Judea, .  | 66       |   |
| 6. He visited Jerusalem again after an interval of fourteen                               |          | PART V.   |
| years,  | 69       |   |
| (1.) He went up by revelation,  | 70       | THE APOSTLE'S EXPOSTULATIONS WITH AND WARNING OF  |
| (2.) He communicated to the Apostles his mode of preaching the Gospel among the Gentiles, |          | THE GALATIANS,  |
| (3.) He received from the Apostles the most unequivocal                                   | 71       |   |
| acknowledgment of his qualifications, call, and autho-                                    |          | GAL, IV. 8-V. 12.   |
| rity, as an Apostle,  | 76       | Sect. I.—Introductory Remarks,  |
| 7. His reproof of Peter for dissembling at Antioch, and his                               | 10       | II.—The Apostle shows the Calabian (1944)   |
| assertion of the true Gospel,   | 81       | II.—The Apostle shows the Galatians that they were in danger of subjecting themselves to a bondage similar to that from |
|   |          | which they had been delivered.  |
|   |          |   |

| SECT. III.—The Apostle reminds them of the circumstances of their Coversion, and shows them that nothing had occured that should have changed their sentiments towards either him or his teaching.  1V.—The Apostle exposes the unworthy acts of the Judaising Teachers, 210  1V.—The Apostle exposes his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them, 225  2. The Allegory catended and explained, 239  2. The Allegory explained, 239  3. The Allegory extended and explained, 238  5. The Allegory practically improved, 239  4. The Allegory practically improved, 239  5. The Allegory practically and its blessings, 269  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—why 2. The persuasion which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272  4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273  5. Their troublers would be punished, 275  6. The obvious flashbood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumsicison, 270  7. The Apostle's with that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS. Gal. 13-VI. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 284  TI.—The Persuasion becoming weary in it, 320  VII.—The Dissentation to glory only in the Cross of Christ, 376  VII.—The Dissentation of Gal. iv. 1-7, 389  Remarks on the Subscription, 387  VII.—The Dissentation of Gal. iv. 1-7, 389  B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393  II.—An Extortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported: 287  E. Will consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 110, 400  III.—A General Exhoration to be abused the best means of obtaining Domnino over the Lusst of the Flesh, 291  II.—A caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 291  II.—The Apostle's ferrour and Conduct, 110, 400  Appellment of the Law, 292  E. Will consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 110, 400  III.—A General Exhoration to "Walking in the Spirit," as the best means of obtaining Domnino over the Lusst of the Flesh, 291  I | Page   | Page   |
|--|--|--|
| Conversion, and shows them that nothing has decentred that should have changed their sentiments towards either him or his teaching.  120   11.   11.   12.   12.   12.   13.   14.   15.   15.   16.   | from III The Apostle reminds them of the circumstances of their  |  |
| either him or his teaching.  1V—The Aposel e exposes the unworthy acts of the Judaising Teachers.  V—The Aposel e exposes the unworthy acts of the Judaising Teachers.  V—The Aposel e exposesses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them.  225 VI.—Allegory established.  1. Introduction.  226 2. The Allegory explained,  236 2. The Allegory explained,  238 248 VIII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Renaction of Christianity and its blessings,  250 VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to account any account of the Law.  270 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ.  271 2. The apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  272 2. The hapostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  273 VII.—A postle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  274 275 276 277 277 278 278 278 279 270 270 270 270 271 270 271 271 271 270 271 271 272 272 273 274 275 275 277 275 277 277 277 277 277 277   | Conversion and shows them that nothing had occurred              | VI The Duty of the Galatians to support their Teachers, . 331      |
| Trachers, 218 V.—The Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them, 225 V.—The Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them, 225 V.—Allegory exceeded and explained, 228 1. Introduction, 229 2. The Allegory extended and explained, 238 5. The Allegory extended and explained, 238 5. The Allegory practically improved, 230 VII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to scrious consideration, 1270 VII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to scrious consideration, 270 1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Wily 2. 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Clirist, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle's will hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 276 6. The obvious falshood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  FART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 287 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 I. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 II.—A Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 II.—A caution against win Love, supported by Motives, 287 II.—A caution against win Love, supported hy Motives, 287 II.—A concluding pominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in Love, of Walking in Love, of Walking in Love, of Walking in the Spirit," 118 II.—Caution against vain-gloying, 200 III.—A and against vain-gloying, 200 III.—A an implication to the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in Love, of Walking in Love, of Walking in Love, of Walking in Lov | that should have changed their sentiments towards                | VII.—Caution against mistake in reference to the connection be-    |
| Teachers, V.—The Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them,  VI.—Altegorical Illustration,  228 1. Introduction, 229 2. The Allegory explained, 230 3. The Allegory explained, 230 4. The Allegory explained, 231 5. The Allegory practically improved, 248 VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Remarktion of Christianity and its blessings, 256 VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to secure of the presence of the Judaising Teachers, 361 1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 273 4. The Apostle's illusped well of them, 274 4. The Apostle's internation to grow only in the Cross of Christ, 363 T.—The Pobrious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 277 The Apostle's which the they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-v1. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 286 1. Love is the fulliment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 11.—A Exhertation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best mass of obtaining Dominion over the Lasts of the Flesh, 210 T.—Particular Exhertations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit" as the best mass of obtaining Dominion over the Lasts of the Flesh, 210 T.—Particular Exhertations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit" as the best mass of obtaining Dominion over the Lasts of the Flesh, 210 T.—Particular Exhertations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit" of those "overtaken in a fault," 315  The exit of the World of the New Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  WIII.—An Enders of the Natural Mind to the peculiar doctrines of Christianity, speedicy of the Christian Tuth, 40  E.—Opposition | either him or his teaching,                                      |  |
| V.—The Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them,  V.—A Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and his wish to be present with them,  225  V.—Alegory explained, 236  3. The Allegory explained, 237  3. The Allegory explained, 238  5. The Allegory practically improved,  VII.—Additional consideration, an implicit Renunciation of Christianity and its blessings,  VIII.—Additional consideration, and its blessings,  VIII.—Additional consideration, and induced them to change had not come from Christ, 270  3. The evil was likely to increase, 272  4. The Apostle's was likely to increase, 273  5. Their troublers would be punished, 6. The obvious fishelood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PART | IV.—The Apostle exposes the unworthy acts of the Judaising       |  |
| wish to be present with them,  VI.—Alegoryical Hinstration,  228 1. Introduction,  229 2. The Allegory,  3. The Allegory explained,  4. The Allegory explained,  5. The Allegory explained,  238 4. The Allegory explained,  248 VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Renunciation of Christianity and its blessings,  VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious consideration,  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why  2. The 'persuasion' which had induced them to change had not come from Christ,  3. The evil was likely to increase,  4. The Apostle sith hoped well of them,  273 3. The evil was likely to increase,  4. The Apostle sith hoped well of them,  274 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumeision,  7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  FRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Ga.L. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sizer, I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  285 1. Low is the fulfilment of the Law,  286 287 288 288 289 280 289 280 289 280 280 280 280 280 280 280 280 280 280  | Teachers,  |  |
| VI.—Allegorieal Illustration. 228 1. Introduction, 229 2. The Allegory, 230 3. The Allegory stended and explained, 236 5. The Allegory stended and explained, 236 5. The Allegory stended and explained, 236 5. The Allegory practically improved, 248 VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Renuclation of Christianity and its blessings, 256 VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to 270 1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why 270 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle's toleromaking of the World, by the Cross of Christ, 370 PART VI. The Practical in the course they had been arrested in the course they had well and to come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 273 6. The evil was likely to increase, 273 7. The Apostle's thin they world to the Apostle, and of the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 275 6. Their troublers would be punished, 275 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "ent off," 275 PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 1.3-vt. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 3. The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381 3. In Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 4. The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381 4. The Apostle's Department of the Manusch and their followers, 385 IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385 IX.—Concluding Benediction | V.—The Apostle expresses his deep anxiety for them, and ms       | weary in it,   |
| VII.—Altegorea misstation, 220 2. The Allegory explained, 230 3. The Allegory explained, 230 4. The Allegory explained, 238 5. The Allegory practically improved, 248 VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Remarks to serious considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious considerations which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 275 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 279  II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 287 3. The Apostle's wish that the Spirit," 3 the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lasts of the Flesh, 291 3. The Apostle show and the Apostle and the | wish to be present with them,                                    |  |
| 2. The Allegory explained, 236 4. The Allegory extended and explained, 238 5. The Allegory extended and explained, 238 5. The Allegory practically improved, 248  VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Remunciation of Christianity and its blessings, 256  VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious consideration, 270 1. They had been arrested in the course they land well begun—Why 270 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 4. The Apostle's bill hoped well of them, 273 5. The Avoit was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 275 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 276  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 15-vi. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 297 III.—A General Exhortation to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortation to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," is at he best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," is at he best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," is the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," is at he best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortation to "Walking in the Spirit," is at he best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortation to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," is the best mean | VI.—Allegorical Illustration,                                    | PART VII.  |
| 3. The Allegory explained, 238 4. The Allegory practically improved, 248 5. The Allegory practically improved, 248 6. The Allegory practically improved, 248 6. The Allegory practically improved, 256 1. They had been arrested in the course the Galatians to serious considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious consideration, 270 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle's still hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The bovious falschood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a pracher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's which that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-v. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 287 II.—An exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported the Galatian converts might be the fulfilment of the Law, 287 II.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 10 those "overtaken in a fault," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 315  PART VI.  Particular Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 315  | 1. Introduction,   |  |
| 4. The Allegory extended and explained, 5. The Allegory practically improved, 6. The Allegory practically improved, 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "eut off," 8. EVIL —An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 9. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 9. Evil consequences of an opp | 2. The Allegory explained  | POSTSCRIPT.  |
| S. The Allegory practically improved, VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Renunciation of Christianity and its blessings, VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious considerations fitted to rouse they had well begun.—Why 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 2. The evil was likely to increase, 3. The evil was likely to increase, 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 5. Their troublers would be pumished, 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sgert. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 11. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 11. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 11. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 12. Caution against vain-glorying, 3. The Spirit," 3. The Apostle's nemark that his Letter was Autograph, 364 III.—Introductory Remarks, 3. Sect. I.—Introductory Remarks, 3. Sect. I.—Introductory Remarks, 3. Sect. I.—Introductory Remarks, 3. Sect. II.—The Apostle's remark that his Letter was Autograph, 364 III.—The Apostle's nemark that his Letter was Autograph, 364 III.—The Apostle's nemark that his Letter was Autograph, 364 III.—The Apostle's remark that his Letter was Autograph, 364 III.—The Apostle's nemark to glovel of the Cross of Christ, 370 V.—The Cracikion of the World to the Apostle, and the Cross of Unist, 370 V.—The Cracikion of the World to the Apostle, and the Cross of Unist, 370 V.—The Cracikion of the World to the Apostle, and the Apostle and III.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been harassed by the Judaisers and their followers, 385 IX.—Concluding Benediction, | 4. The Allegory extended and explained,                          | (C) 17 10  |
| VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Renunciation of Christianity and its blessings,  VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious consideration,  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why  2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ,  3. The evil was likely to increase,  4. The Apostle's wish the destill hoped well of them,  5. Their troublers would be punished,  6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had been ae preacher of circumcision,  7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, by Motives,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, and the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault,"  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault,"  3. Sect. I.—Introductory Remarks, and said II.—The Apostle's remark that his Letter was Autograph, and III.—The Apostle's remarks that his Letter was Autograph, and III.—Unprincipled Conduct of the Judaising Teachers, and III.—Unprincipled Conduct of the Judaising Teachers, and III.—The Apostle's determination to glory only in the Cross of Christ, and the World to the Apostle, and the Apostle to the World to the Apostle, and the Apostle to the World to the Apostle of the World to the Apostle's remarks on the World to the Apostle's remarks of the World to the Apostle of the World to the Apostle's remarks of the Wor | 5. The Allegory practically improved,                            | GAL. VI. 11-18.  |
| NIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to serious consideration.  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 3. The evil was likely to increase, 4. The Apostle's Induced them to change had not come from Christ, 5. Their troubles would be punished, 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that he Apostle had been a preacher of circumcision, 2. The "Apostle's Induced them to change had been a preacher of circumcision, 3. The evil was likely to increase, 3. The evil was likely to increase, 3. The bagostle's Induced them to change had not come from Christ, 3. The hapostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 3. September of circumcision, 3. The Apostle's Induced them to case to harase the Apostle, as he had been had beened a preacher of circumcision, 3. The Apostle's Induced them to change had been a preacher of circumcision, 3. The Apostle's Induced them to change had been a preacher of circumcision, 3. The Apostle's Induced them to change had been a preacher of circumcision, 3. The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 3. September of Christ, 3. September of Christ, 3. September of Christianity, and act on it, 3. September of Chri | VII.—The Course the Galatians were following—an implicit Re-     | SECT. I.—Introductory Remarks,                                     |
| serious consideration,  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why  2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ,  3. The evil was likely to increase,  4. The Apostle still hoped well of them,  5. Their troublers would be punished,  6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision,  7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vt. 10.  Segor. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  283  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  286  286  287  288  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  286  287  288  289  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  289  280  280  281  282  283  Note A.—Calvin's Exposition of Gal. iv. 1-7,  389  380  387  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  Segor. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  281  282  283  Note A.—Calvin's Exposition of Gal. iv. 1-7,  389  380  C.—Elements of Christianity,  380  C.—Elements o | nunciation of Christianity and its blessings, . 256              | II.—'The Apostle's remark that his Letter was Autograph, . 354     |
| serious constantants,  1. They had been arrested in the course they had well begun—Why  2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ,  3. The evil was likely to increase,  3. The evil was likely to increase,  4. The Apostle still hoped well of them,  5. Their troublers would be punished,  6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision,  7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vl. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  Motives,  Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  II.—A General Exbortation to "Walk in the Spirit," as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  TV.—Particular Exbortation to "walk in the Spirit," as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  3. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, the Spirit, as the best that the spirit is the Spirit in the Capital Spir | VIII.—Additional considerations fitted to rouse the Galatians to | III.—Unprincipled Conduct of the Judaising Teachers, . 356         |
| begun—Why 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. Their troublers would be punished, 275 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 299  III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 313 1. Caution against vain-glorying, 313 2. Duty of "the Spirit," 315 315  V.—The Crucifixion of the World to the Apostle, and of the Apostle hapostle, and of the Apostle in the World, by the Cross of Christian, 370  VI.—The Essence of Christianity again stated, 376 VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381 VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381 VIII.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been harassed by the Undaisers and their followers, 383 IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  Remarks on the Subscription, 387  Remarks on the Subscription, 499 Remarks on the Subscription of Gal. iv. 1-7, 389 B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393 B.—Period of the Appearance of the Support of the Christian Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6, 400  III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  IV.—Particular Exhortation to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 B.—Parul's Mode of Considering Judaism and Christianity in their various velations. Warn   |  | IV The Apostle's determination to glory only in the Cross of       |
| 2. The "persuasion" which had induced them to change had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vt. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 II.—Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 £ Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 289 III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit," 313 I. Caution against vain-glorying, 313 1. Caution against vain-glorying, 313 2. Duty of "the Spirit," 315 2. Duty of "the Spirit," 315 315  279  V.—The Crucifxion of the World to the Apostle, and of the Apostle to the World, by the Cross of Christianity, 370 Apostle to the World, by the Cross of Christ, 370 Apostle to the World, by the Cross of Christianity, and act on it, 370  VII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381  VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381  VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381  VIII.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been harassed by the Judaisers and their followers, 383  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283  Norre A.—Calvin's Exposition of Gal. iv. 1-7, 389  B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393  B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393  D.—Remarks on the principle of the Support of the Christian Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6, 400  E.—Opposition of the Natural Mind to the peculiar doctrines of E.—Opposition of the Natural Min | 1. They had been arrested in the course they had wen             | Commence / S vs C S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S S              |
| had not come from Christ, 272 3. The evil was likely to increase, 2772 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falschood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 287 288 287 288 389 380 380 380 380 380 380 380 380 380 380  | negun—win  |  |
| 3. The evil was likely to increase, 272 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 311 III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 TV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 1. Caution against vain-glorying, 211 2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  VII.—The Essence of Christianity and act on it, 381 VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381 VIII.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been harassed by the Judaisers and their followers, 383 IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  Remarks on the Subscription, 387  Remarks on the Subscription, 387  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393 B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393 B.—Remarks on the principle of the Support of the Christian Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6, 400  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, 410  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, 410  IV.—Particular Exhortation to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  | had not come from Christ   |  |
| 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 275 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291 IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 1. Caution against vain-glorying, 211 2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  VIII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Element of Christianity, and act on it, 381  WIII.—Ah end of Christianity, and act on it, 381  VIII.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been harassed by the Judaisers and their followers, 383  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Concluding Benediction of IX. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4. 4.  | 3. The evil was likely to increase,                              |  |
| 5. Their troublers would be punished, 275 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Aposte had become a preacher of circumcision, 276 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off," 279  PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283 II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286 I. I. ove is the fulfilment of the Law, 287 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 299  III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313 I. Caution against vain-glorying, 313 2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  PART VI.  Sect. I.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Concluding Benediction, 385  IX.—Conclu | 4. The Apostle still hoped well of them, 273                     | VII.—The Apostle's Prayer for all who possess the Essential Ele-   |
| had become a preacher of circumcision,   | 5 Their troublers would be punished                              |  |
| 7. The Apostle's wish that they who troubled the Galatian converts might be "cut off,"   | 6. The obvious falsehood of the suggestion, that the Apostle     | VIII.—An injunction to cease to harass the Apostle, as he had been |
| PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,   | had become a preacher of circumcision,                           |  |
| PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,   | 7. The Apostie's wish that they who troubled the Galavian        | IX.—Concluding Benediction,  |
| PART VI.  PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.  Gal. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty, 283  II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives, 286  I. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287  I. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287  I. Love is the fulfilment of the Law, 287  II.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit," 313  I. Caution against vain-glorying, 313  I. Caution against vain-glorying, 313  I. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  APPENDIX.  B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393  B.—Period of the Appearance of the Messiah, 393  B.—Remarks on the principle of the Support of the Christian Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6, 400  Christianity, especially the doctrine of the Cross, 404  F.—Practical Power of Christian Truth, 407  G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, 410  H.—Paul's Mode of considering Judaism and Christianity in their Various relations. Wayers  | converts might be care on,                                       | Remarks on the Subscription  |
| APPENDIX.  SECT. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,  | PART VI.   |  |
| GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.  Sect. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,   | PRACTICAL INJUNCTIONS.   | ADDENING   |
| II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives,  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  3. Hin.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh,  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault,"  313  326  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  320  320  321  321  322  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  329  329  320  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  329  329  329  329  320  320  320  | GAL. v. 13-vi. 10.   | APPENDIA.  |
| II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported by Motives,  1. Love is the fulfilment of the Law,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  3. Hin.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh,  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault,"  313  326  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  320  320  321  321  322  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  327  328  328  329  329  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  329  329  320  320  320  321  322  323  323  324  325  326  327  328  328  329  329  329  329  329  320  320  320  | Sucr. I.—Caution against the Abuse of Liberty,                   | Note A Calvin's Exposition of Gal. iv. 1-7,                        |
| by Motives,  | II.—An Exhortation to "Serve one another in Love," supported     |  |
| 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 239  Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6,  |  | C.—Elements of Christianity,                                       |
| 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct,  III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh,  IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault,"  239  Ministry, stated Gal. vi. 6,  | 1. 170ve is the idiniment of the free;                           | D.—Remarks on the principle of the Support of the Christian        |
| means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291  TV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying, 313  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  T.—Practical Power of Christian Truth, 407  G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, 410  H.—Paul's Mode of considering Judaism and Christianity in their various relations. Whyere 412   | 2. Evil consequences of an opposite temper and conduct, 239      |  |
| TV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in the Spirit,"  1. Caution against vain-glorying,  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  T.—Practical Power of Christian Truth,  313  G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion,  410  H.—Paul's Mode of considering Judaism and Christianity in their   | III.—A General Exhortation to "Walk in the Spirit" as the best   |  |
| the Spirit,"  G.—Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, 410  1. Caution against vain-glorying, 313  H.—Paul's Mode of considering Judaism and Christianity in their  2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315   | means of obtaining Dominion over the Lusts of the Flesh, 291     |  |
| 1. Caution against vain-glorying,  | IV.—Particular Exhortations to certain varieties of "Walking in  |  |
| 2. Duty of "the Spiritual" to those "overtaken in a fault," 315  | the Spirit,  | Tendency of Man to rest in a mere External Religion, . 410         |
| z. Duty of the Spiritual to those victorian warms, various relations.—Winer, 412   |  | 11.—Paul's Mode of considering Judaism and Christianity in their   |
| 3 Exportation to bear one another's burdens,   | 3. Exhortation to bear one another's burdens, . 323              | various relations.—Winer, 412                                      |