

ANALYSIS

OF

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

ST. MATTHEW V—VII.

The character of the citizens of the kingdom of God	v. 3-12
The place of this character in the world	13-16
The relation of this character to the righteousness of the old Covenant	17-48
A relation of continuity	17-19
A relation of supersession	20-48
both of the existing standard of its professors	20
and of the original standard of the law	21-48
the law of murder (Comm. vi)	21-26
the law of adultery (Comm. vii)	27-30
the law of divorce	31-32
the law of perjury (Comm. iii)	33-37
the law of retaliation	38-42
the hatred of enemies	43-48

xii Analysis of the Sermon on the Mount

The motive of the citizens of the kingdom	. . .	vi. 1-34
The approval of God, not of man	. . .	I
this applied to almsgiving	2-4
" " prayer	5-6
[further directions about prayer	. . .	7-8
the gift of the pattern prayer	. . .	9-15]
" " fasting	16-18
their consequent unworldliness	. . .	19-24
and freedom from anxiety	25-34
 Further characteristics of the citizens of the kingdom		vii. 1-12
The uncritical temper	1-5
Reserve in communicating religious privi- leges	6
Impartial considerateness, based on expe- rience of the character of God	. . .	7-12
 Final warnings	vii. 13-27
The two ways	13-14
Character the one thing needful	. . .	15-23
Endurance the test	24-27