

Contents

Preface to the Fourth Edition	7
Preface to the First Edition	10

PART I. The Need for a Christian World-View

I. THE PRACTICAL HUMAN PREDICAMENT	19
The Sources of Soul-Sorrow	20
The Nature of Soul-Sorrow	23
The Cure for Soul-Sorrow	24
Recapitulation	27
II. THE THEORETICAL HUMAN PREDICAMENT	29
Transition to the Theoretical	30
The Problem of the Many	34
The Problem of the One	37
The Persistent Philosophical Danger	39

PART II. The Rise of the Christian World-View

III. THE PROBLEM OF TRUTH	45
The Nature of Truth	45
The Test for Truth	47
Recapitulation	62
IV. WHAT IS FAITH?	65
The Nature and Test of Faith Distinguished	66
Faith Based on Authoritative Decrees	70
Faith Based on Subjective Immediacy	74
Objections to the Christian View of Faith	82
Ensuing Practical Benefits	86
V. THE CHRISTIAN HYPOTHESIS	89
The Nature of Assumptions	91
Philosophy and Assumptions	95
Objections to the Christian Hypothesis	101

VI. THE CRITERIA OF VERIFICATION	103
The Nature of Proof	103
The Criteria of Verification in Christianity	108
Probability and the Problem of Moral Certainty	113
Objections to Probability	118
VII. STARTING POINT: NATURE	122
The Nature of Starting Point	123
A Critique of Natural Theology	126
VIII. STARTING POINT: NATURE (Continued)	140
The Structure of the Analogy of Being	140
A Critique of the Analogy of Being	146
IX. STARTING POINT: GOD	152
Transition to Christian Rationalism	152
The Knowledge of God from the Self	157
The Knowledge of God through the Rationes aeternae	161
The Knowledge of God through Nature	168
X. STARTING POINT: GOD (Continued)	173
The Appeal to Special Revelation	174
The Benefits of Special Revelation	180
Objections to Christianity	184

PART III. Implications of the Christian World-View

XI. THE PROBLEM OF BIBLICAL CRITICISM	191
The Nature of Biblical Criticism	192
The Basic Issue	200
The Strength of the Conservative Hypothesis	205
Concluding Observations	209
XII. THE PROBLEM OF COMMON GROUND	211
The Three Levels of Meaning	213
The Reflection of the Metaphysical Ultimate	215
Objections	219
XIII. THE CHRISTIAN FAITH AND THE SCIENTIFIC METHOD	223
Transitional Material	223
The Proposed Rapprochement	229
Concluding Problems	233

XIV. THE PROBLEM OF MIRACLES AND NATURAL LAW.	243
Background Data	243
What is a Miracle?	247
What are Nature and Natural Law?	250
Natural Law and the Resurrection of Christ	253
XV. THE PROBLEMS OF MIRACLES AND NATURAL LAW (Continued)	261
Hume's Canons and Historical Phenomena	262
What is the Point to Miracles?	268
Concluding Difficulties	273
XVI. THE PROBLEM OF EVIL	276
The General Nature of the Problem	277
The Nature of Evil	280
The Basic Solutions to the Problem	283
XVII. THE PROBLEM OF EVIL (Continued)	292
Christian Theism	292
Objections to Christian Theism	297
XVIII. THE ETHICAL ONE AND MANY	315
The Fundamental Problem of Ethics	315
The Primacy of the Law	322
The Primacy of Man as Lawgiver	324
God as Lawgiver	328
Objections to the Christian Ethic	334
XIX. RESURRECTION AND IMMORTALITY	336
The Problem of Immortality	336
The Arguments for Immortality	337
Objections	347

CONCLUSION

XX. CONCLUSION	353
Summary and Recapitulation	353
Pascal's Wager	357
GLOSSARY	363
INDEX OF SCRIPTURE PASSAGES	371
INDEX OF PROPER NAMES	375
INDEX OF SUBJECTS	377