

Contents

Tables and Illustrations	13
Foreword by Dan Egeler	15
Acknowledgments	19
Introduction	21
1 The (Scientistic) Air We Breathe	25
2 Why Scientism Matters	31
3 How Scientism Changed the Universities	43
4 Scientism Is Self-Refuting	49
5 Scientism Is the Enemy of Science	55
6 Why Weak Scientism Is No Better Than Strong Scientism	71
7 The Availability of Nonscientific Knowledge	77
8 When Science Exceeds Its Reach: A Case Study	85
9 Scientism and First Philosophy	97
10 Examples of the Authority and Autonomy Theses	113
11 How Do We Explain Things?	125
12 Five Things Science Cannot In Principle Explain (But Theism Can)	135
13 Methodological Naturalism, Theistic Evolution, and Intelligent Design	159
14 The Importance of Integrating Christianity and Science	173
15 A Plan for the Integration of Christianity and Science	183

One Final Plea	197
Glossary	199
Selected Bibliography	209
Index	213