

CONTENTS.

PART I.—EARLIEST STAGE:

ST. PAUL IN ASIA MINOR.

CHAPTER I.

	PAGE
GENERAL	3
1. Plan of the work 3 : 2. The Travel-Document 6 : 3. The Churches of Galatia 8 : 4. Social Condition of Asia Minor, A.D. 50-60, 11 : Note 13.

CHAPTER II.

LOCALITIES OF THE FIRST JOURNEY	16
1. Pamphylia 16 : 2. Pisidia and Ayo Paulo 18 : 3. Pisidian Antioch 25 : 4. Route from Antioch to Iconium 27 : 5. Iconium 36 : 6. Lystra 47 : 7. Derbe 54 : 8. Character of Lycaonia in the First Century 56.

CHAPTER III.

THE FIRST JOURNEY AS A NARRATIVE OF TRAVEL	59
--	----

CHAPTER IV.

THE SECOND JOURNEY	74
------------------------------	----

CHAPTER V.
	PAGE
THE THIRD JOURNEY	90

CHAPTER VI.
THE EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS	97

1. Arguments founded on the Epistle 97: 2. St. Paul's feelings towards the Galatian Churches: 3. Arguments for the North-Galatian theory 105: 4. Analogy of 1 Peter 110: 5. Change in the meaning of the name Galatia 111.

CHAPTER VII.
ST. PAUL AT EPHEBUS	112

1. Demetrius the Neopoios 113: 2. Acts xix. 23-41, 114: 3. Demetrius the Neopoios and Demetrius the Silversmith 118: 4. Action of the Priests of Artemis 120: 5. Shrines of Artemis 123: 6. Attitude of the Ephesian officials towards Paul 129: 7. Fate of the silver shrines 134: 8. Great Artemis 135: 9. Text of Acts xix. 23-41, 139: 10. Historical character of the narrative Acts xix. 23-41, 143.

CHAPTER VIII.
THE ORIGINAL AUTHORITY FOR ST. PAUL'S JOURNEYS: VALUE AND TEXT	146

1. Rapid spread of Christianity in Asia Minor 147: 2. Distinction of Authorship 148: 3. Text of Codex Bezae: Asia Minor 151: 4. Text of Codex Bezae: Europe 156: 5. Codex Bezae founded on a Catholic Recension 161: 6. Postscript: Spitta's Apostelgeschichte 166.

PART II.—A.D. 64—170:

BEING LECTURES AT MANSFIELD COLLEGE,
OXFORD, MAY AND JUNE, 1892.

CHAPTER IX.

	PAGE
SUBJECT AND METHOD	171

1. Aspect of history here treated 172: 2. Connexion between Church history and the life of the period 173: 3. The authorities: date 177: 4. The authorities: trustworthiness 182: 5. Results of separating Church history from Imperial history 185: 6. The point of view 190.

CHAPTER X.

PLINY'S REPORT AND TRAJAN'S RESCRIPT	196
--	-----

1. Preliminary considerations 196: 2. The religious question in Bithynia-Pontus 198: 3. First and second stage of the trials 201: 4. Pliny's attitude towards the Christians 205: 5. The case was administrative, not legal 207: 6. Pliny's questions and Trajan's reply 211: 7. The Christians were not punished as a Sodalitas 213: 8. Procedure 215: 9. Additional Details 219: 10. Recapitulation 222: 11. Topography.

CHAPTER XI.

THE ACTION OF NERO TOWARDS THE CHRISTIANS	226
---	-----

1. Tacitus Annals xv. 44, 227: 2. The evidence of Suetonius 229: 3. First stage in Nero's action 232: 4. Second stage: charge of hostility to society 234: 5. Crime which the Christians confessed 238: 6. Character, duration, and extent of the Neronian persecution 240: 7. Principle of Nero's action 242: 8. Evidence of Christian documents 245.

CHAPTER XII.

THE FLAVIAN POLICY TOWARDS THE CHURCH . . . 252

1. Tacitus' conception of the Flavian policy 253: 2. Confirmation of Nero's policy by Vespasian 256: 3. The Persecution of Domitian 259: 4. Bias of Dion Cassius 263: 5. Difference of policy towards Jews and Christians 264: 6. The executions of A.D. 95 an incident of the general policy 268: 7. The evidence of Suetonius about the executions of A.D. 95, 271: 8. The Flavian action was political in character 274.

CHAPTER XIII.

CHRISTIAN AUTHORITIES FOR THE FLAVIAN PERIOD . . . 279

1. The first Epistle of Peter 279: 2. Later Date assigned to 1 Peter 288: 3. Official action implied in 1 Peter 290: 4. The evidence of the Apocalypse 295: 5. The first Epistle of John 302: 6. Hebrews and Barnabas 306: 7. The Epistle of Clement 309: 8. The letters of Ignatius 311.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE POLICY OF HADRIAN, PIUS, AND MARCUS . . . 320

1. Hadrian 320: 2. Pius 331: 3. Marcus Aurelius 334: 4. The Apologists 340.

CHAPTER XV.

CAUSE AND EXTENT OF PERSECUTION . . . 346

1. Popular hatred of the Christians 346: 2. Real cause of State persecution 354: 3. Organisation of the Church 361: Note 374.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE ACTA OF PAUL AND THEKLA . . . 375

1. The Acta in their extant form 375: 2. Queen Tryphaena 382: 3. Localities of the tale of Thekla 390: 4. The trials at Iconium 391: 5. The trial of Thekla at Antioch 395: 6. Punishment and escape of Thekla 401: 7. The original tale of Thekla 409: 8. Revision of the tale of Thekla, A.D. 130-50, 416: 9. The Iconian legend of Thekla 423: Notes 426.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE CHURCH FROM 120 TO 170 A.D. . . . 429

NOTES . . . 442

CHAPTER XVIII.

GLYCERIUS THE DEACON . . . 443

CHAPTER XIX.

THE MIRACLE AT KHONAI . . . 465

NOTES . . . 480

ADDENDA TO THE FOURTH EDITION . . . 481

INDEX . . . 497

NOTES ON ILLUSTRATIONS . . . 510

VIEW OF THE SITE OF LYSTRA . . . facing p. 47

VIEW OF THE SITE OF DERBE . . . facing p. 55

EARLY CHRISTIAN MONUMENT FROM PRYMNESSOS . . . facing p. 441